

CITY OF IRVINE
MAYOR

EARLE ZUCHT

AGE: 50

OCCUPATION: Executive, High Technology Industry

Earle Zucht is longtime Orange County and Irvine resident. He is a successful executive. Urged by family, friends, and neighbors to run for Mayor of Irvine, Zucht joined the race, convinced that his conservative values are just what the city needs.

Earle Zucht believes that Irvine's General Plan, the document that has guided the city so well in the past, must be protected. City government's chief obligation is to plan ahead to insure public safety and guarantee Irvine's quality of life. Zucht says, "Planning works; but we have to work at it every single day."

According to Zucht, five years ago this meant defeating the county's El Toro Airport Plan, no matter what the cost. Today, this means building the Great Park in a way that keeps faith with Irvine voters and with community and family values.

Specifically, the Great Park must be completely self-funded, providing wholesome uses and activities for all generations. However, as reported in the Los Angeles Times, some people want to move

Inglewood's Hollywood Park to Irvine's Great Park. Earle Zucht vehemently disagrees, "Let's do the right thing. Irvine deserves a Great Park, not Hollywood Park."

Conservative values Earle Zucht for Mayor!
